IICL's CONTAINER AND CHASSIS INSPECTOR CERTIFICATION EXAMINATIONS

Washington, D.C. – The Institute of International Container Lessors (IICL) has announced its annual container and chassis inspector certification examinations which are scheduled worldwide for September 24, 2011.

These exams test the knowledge of an individual's ability to understand and interpret inspection and repair criteria for use in a wide range of practical applications throughout our industry. The exams are based upon the various manuals and technical bulletins of the IICL. Candidates who pass the examinations will be awarded IICL certificates, photo identification cards and will have their names listed in the IICL Online Inspection Directory for a five year period.

In addition to the certification exams the IICL also conducts various educational courses, posted on our website, which help prepare and assist candidates for the exam and which focus on both the written and practical aspects of the IICL inspection and repair criteria.

The 2011 Container examination is based on the Full Set of Container Inspection Publications (six manuals), the Convention for Safe Container pamphlet, and IICL Technical Bulletin 002: Electronic Data Interchange Standards (EDIS). The Guide for Chassis Inspection & Maintenance, 4th edition is the only manual required to study for the chassis examination.

The Full Set of Container Publications is Product code 1198, the Chassis Inspection & Maintenance Guide is Product code 2105. Both the container and chassis manuals can be ordered via the IICL online store by logging into <http://www.iicl.org/store/storeform.cfm>

Early Bird Registrations for the 24 September 2011 Worldwide IICL Inspector Certification Examinations will end on Friday, 27 May 2011. Early registration rates are $300 for the container test and $225 for the Chassis.

Candidates may also continue to register for the examinations at the regular registration period rates of $350 for the container test and $250 for the chassis test until August 4th. A late registration period extends from 5 August to 9 September with registration fees of $375 for the container exam and $275 for the chassis.

Candidates interested in registering may do so online via IICL's website by visiting <http://www.iicl.org/education/certification.cfm> Test Information Bulletins, sample questions and a list of test centers are also available at IICL's website for both examinations.
