

The Institute of International Container Lessors

10 March 2026

IMPORTANT REMINDER

The IICL maintains a database with containers and chassis that are under recovery. Units are flagged as either “recovery” or “stolen” on our database.

To search our database just copy and paste the unit numbers for an immediate response. Database inquiries are quick and easy. Be aware that some trading units could be flagged as recovered or stolen in our database.

You can use the link below to search our database or visit our new website at www.iicl.org
