

IICL Update on Floorboard Production

The IICL Technical Committee continuously reviews and updates its standards to enhance container design, component performance, and overall product quality.

At its recent meeting, the IICL Technical Committee reviewed the current floorboard requirements contained in Technical Bulletin TB-001 - “Performance Standard for New and Unused Structural Container Floor Panels to be Installed in International Freight Containers”. As a result of our review, an addendum has been issued.

The self-explanatory addendum to TB-001 outlines a new requirement intended to strengthen product traceability and quality assurance throughout the supply chain.
